A LONG FURROW TO PLOW

Springtime is a busy time for the farmers and orchardists of the Okanagan and here is a man with a long furrow to plow. The scene is in the Green Bay resort area, and this plowman is busy tilling the land in readiness for spring planting. Five Convicts Slain In Riot At Prison

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Five prisoners were killed and 80 persons injured early today when guards at North Carolina Central Prison fired on a crowd of about 500 demonstrating prisoners. Five of the injured were guards, the others prisoners. State Correction Commissioner V. Lee Bounds said the riot erupted shortly after 1:30 a.m. when the prisoners set fire to a small building in a yard of the maximum-security facility and began throwing lighted torches at unarmed custodial officers. About 45 state highway patrolmen and 50 Raleigh policemen responded to the prison's emergency call for support for prison guards. Prisoners had staged a sit-down strike in the yard Tuesday and presented a list of grievances to Commissioner Bounds, who said he refused to negotiate with the prisoners. "I talk to inmates daily, but I do not yield to inmate demands that I do anything," Bounds said afterward. He said the demonstrators were confined to an open yard by custodial officers armed with chemical Mace and nightsticks. WEAPONS HOME MADE After the building was set fire, Bounds reported, the prisoners—many of them armed with homemade weapons and torches—began to advance on the guards on the grounds. "They began throwing lighted torches on the unarmed custodial officers, and the armed custodial officers began opening fire," Bounds said.

Investigations Under Way On Fatal Bridge Collapse

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — $8,250,000 contract to construct a 1.2-mile section of the expressway, under way today to learn why a bridge collapsed Tuesday, killing three men. Eight others were injured. Sixteen steel girders weighing more than 200 tons fell into a street below. A tank truck loaded with gasoline exploded and burst into flames when one of the 15-ton beams struck it. One of those killed was Frederick J. Barletta Sr., 54, president of Barletta Construction Co. of Boston, which held an

Greek Junta Cracks Down

ATHENS (Reuters) — A former leading Greek politician was deported for a year to a tiny Aegean island today after being accused of being dangerous to public security, a member of his household said. He is Angelos Angeloussis, 51, a former deputy of the Centre Union party. He was arrested by security police Monday—a few hours after former premiers George Papandreu and Panayotis Kanellopoulos were placed under house arrest. Another former politician, former industry minister Ioannis Ziegdis, was awakened Tuesday and told to report to the ministry of public order. There he was warned not to make any public statements about the situation in Greece, particularly on the eve of the first anniversary of the April 21 takeover by the army-backed regime. Observers here, puzzled by these moves, suggested the government is anxious to avoid the possibility politicians might seize the occasion of the anniversary to issue a joint statement denouncing the regime. Angeloussis was arrested immediately after the army takeover in April last year but was released later under a Christmas amnesty announced by Premier George Papandreu.

Firemen Find A Grisly Scene

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Firemen dashed into a smoke-filled house Tuesday and came upon a grisly scene of violent death for a family of five. A farm laborer's wife had been fatally beaten on the head. A son and daughter were strangled, another son stabbed through the heart. The charred body of the farm laborer, Alfonso Martinez, 24, was on the service porch. Police said he had killed the four: started a fire with a five-gallon can of gasoline to cover up the crime and then either doused himself to commit suicide or was trapped trying to escape. CANADA'S HIGH-LOW Montreal 61 Churchill, Man. 6

War and Peace Issues Debated At Hawaii Talks

HONOLULU (AP) — Issues of war and peace in Vietnam and tensions in Korea are expected to be discussed today at a one-day conference between President Chung-Hee Park of South Korea and U.S. President Johnson.

Park arrived in Honolulu well after dark in a light drizzle and was met by Johnson.

Once formalities were over, Park and Johnson climbed into a helicopter to be whisked to his hotel.

The two chief executives had a full round of formal meetings set for today at the luxurious ocean front estate of the late industrialist Henry J. Kaiser.

Park's visit coincided with important developments affecting his country and the military-diplomatic situation in Vietnam, where South Korea has nearly 50,000 troops in action.

Two Americans and two South Koreans were killed by North Korean intruders last Sunday near Panmunjom.

Park, on leaving his homeland for Honolulu, lauded Johnson's new initiatives toward a Vietnam peace but seemed to express a bit of restiveness by adding "there is a limit to concessions and patience."

—Foreign Minister Tran Van

Do of South Vietnam suggested in Saigon the Vietnam allies might do well to hold a summit conference in advance of any substantive peace talks with Hanoi. In Washington an official who asked not to be identified said a third party might be needed to settle the issue of where the initial peace contacts should be made.

A Squabbled-Over Question

The United States and Hanoi have been squabbling over this question, with Washington contending it should be in a neutral country while Hanoi has suggested Warsaw, Poland, and Phnom Penh, Cambodia.

Accompanying Park to Hawaii were Defence Minister Choi Young Hi and Foreign Minister Choi Kyu Hah.

Johnson took into the meetings William P. Bundy, assistant secretary of state for East Asian affairs; Chairman Earle G. Wheeler of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; and troubleshooter Cyrus R. Vance, dispatched to Seoul by the president as a troubleshooter. Last February when relations between the two countries were on a shaky footing.

Park and his government expressed misgivings about some aspects of U.S. policy in Asia, and questioned U.S. steadfastness in the defence of South Korea, after discovery Jan. 21 of a plot to assassinate the South Korean leader and the seizure two days later of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo. Both those developments were directed from North Korea.

Mao's Backing Of U.S. Negro Receives Acclaim From Mob

PEKING (CP) — Hundreds of thousands of Chinese workers, students and schoolchildren marched today in Peking to hail Tuesday's statement by party Chairman Mao Tse-tung backing U.S. Negroes.

The demonstrators, disciplined in and apparent good humor, marched to Tiananmen Square and the Soviet Embassy. They chanted slogans read out by group leaders and escorting soldiers: "Resolutely support the American black people's struggle against imperialism," "Down with American imperialism," "Down with Soviet revisionism."

German Riots Claim A Life

BONN (AP) — An Associated Press photographer today became the first fatality from the wave of student riots in West Berlin. The student leader, who was the government debated how to calm the militant leftist students.

Cranial surgery failed to save the life of 32-year-old Klaus Frings, a German, who was hit in the head by a stone Monday night while covering a battle between police and student demonstrators in Munich. His condition worsened after the operation, and he died early today.

Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press, cited Frings' widow that her husband "joins many others of the profession of journalism who have given their lives in peace and war so that the public could be kept informed."

PRINCE TIRES OF OLD BONES

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — Prince Charles has decided he's had enough of old bones. He is cutting his course of anthropology and archaeology at Cambridge to take up history. "I think it's quite a good idea for Charles to change," said Lord Butler, master of Trinity College, where the prince is studying. Butler said he thought history a more appropriate subject for the 19-year-old heir to the throne.

Cabbie Has Evidence In King's Slaying

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — An Atlanta taxi driver says an FBI sketch matches a rude patron who rode with him two blocks in northeast Atlanta's "hippie" section a night after Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was slain. He said the man he identified to an FBI agent in a sketch was in a hurry and rushed from his taxi, flinging the fare onto the seat.

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Jordan said today that an Israeli patrol tried to cross the cease-fire line—the Jordan River—and said a brief firefight ensued.

Trudeau Urged To Mediate In B.C. Case

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver and District Labor Council has urged to send a telegram to Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau demanding the release of two jailed trade unionists. Paddy Neale, secretary-treasurer of the council, said a high-pressure campaign will be needed if Steve Stavenes, president of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union, and secretary Homer Stevens are to be released.

Soviet Accuses Canada And U.S. Of 'Spy' Charge

MOSCOW (CP) — The Soviet government today accused a Canadian and five U.S. military attaches of overstepping the line between legal activity and "open espionage."

The Canadian, described in the government newspaper Izvestia as a lookout man for three of the Americans, was identified as Wing Commander J. V. Watson, the Canadian air attaché here.

The Canadian and U.S. embassies rejected the charges as unfounded, denying that the attaches had done anything wrong.

Charge d'affaires of the two embassies were called separately to the Soviet foreign ministry today and the charges presented to them.

However, there was no immediate indication that the Soviet government would declare the attaches persona non grata—unwanted persons—and expell them from Russia.

The charges, as detailed in Izvestia, implied spying at a military base in Soviet White Russia and a shipyard in Leningrad.

The newspaper accused U.S. assistant army attaches Lt.-Col. Hugo M. Watson and Lt.-Col. Gerhard L. Jacobson of slipping into a closed area near Borisov, in Soviet White Russia, and taking notes "of an intelligence character."

Assistant U.S. naval attaches Cmdr. Robert R. Hamer, Lt. Cmdr. Ralph N. Channel and marine Lt.-Col. Wayne Richards were accused of photographing a Leningrad shipyard, with the assistance of Watson.

TAKING WALK

Watson told a reporter the group was walking down a street when a Soviet policeman stopped them, asked for identification and detained them in conversation for about an hour.

They were not taking photos at the time, Watson said, and were not considering it. He also said they were unaware they were in a sensitive area.

Izvestia says the Leningrad incident occurred April 8 and the Borisov case was one day later.

VALLEY CROPS

Frost Causes Little Damage

Surprisingly little damage was caused to South Okanagan fruit crops during the unseasonably cold Easter weekend. Temperatures in the Penticton area and south dropped to 10 degrees and colder during the night of Good Friday.

However, Naramata district horticulturist Ted Swales said after a tour of the Similkameen "it is surprising how little injury was caused by the frost."

He said such temperatures would usually result in a fair amount of damage at this time of year.

But he said it appears the frost did not stay long enough to cause much damage.

Some peaches and apricots were definitely affected in the Okanagan but officials said the damage was not extensive.

A spokesman in the Kelowna area where temperatures were slightly warmer said damage difficult to assess at this time but it would probably be less than that further south.

LONDON BRIDGE FOR U.S.

LONDON (AP) — London Bridge is finally falling down—and the Americans are picking up the pieces.

The City of London Corporation announced the sale of the bridge to an American bidder Tuesday night and said the purchaser would be revealed later this week.

In Lake Havasu City, Ariz., a spokesman for the McCulloch Corp., a bidder for the bridge, said a news conference was called to announce that the firm won the bid.

But the spokesman, Frederick

The Soviet foreign ministry complained to the U.S. embassy last August that Jacobson had conducted other activities "incompatible with his diplomatic status" in the city of Chuguyev, Izvestia says. It did not elaborate.

The external affairs department declined immediate comment on the Watson case.

The defence department said Wing Cmdr. Watson is a 45-year-old native of Lansing, Ont., who was posted to Moscow in July 1967.

Col. Jefferson now is stationed at Halifax, the spokesman said.

The external affairs spokesman said Col. Jefferson had not been sent back to Warsaw because of the interpretation the Polish authorities had placed on the incident—with which the Canadian government did not agree.

It had been decided in the interests of Polish-Canadian relations and in the interest of the officer himself that he should not go back.

The Jefferson incident also involved allegation of picture-taking in a restricted area. The Canadian government insisted that the area involved was not restricted and that there were no signs prohibiting photography.

Alberta Minister Demands Probe Into Grocery Chains

EDMONTON (CP) — Alberta's Highways Minister called Tuesday for a federal probe of grocery chain stores and the Coca-Cola Co.

Speaking in the legislature on a motion to discourage the use of non-returnable bottles, Gordon Taylor said Canada Safeway Ltd. is encouraging the sale of soft drinks in non-returnable containers by "enticing housewives to think they're getting a bargain when they're really paying more."

And he said the Coca-Cola Co. "needs to be investigated regarding its attitude toward bottlers."

He said Alberta bottlers have told him they would support an increase in bottle deposits from two cents to five but would have their franchises cancelled by the company if they did. The minister spread out a table full of soft drinks to illustrate what he called "deceitful" pricing.

PUBLIC PAYS "Canada Safeway has designed a subtle, cleverly-conceived campaign to extract the highest possible profit from people and to reduce their (the company's) own operating costs by transferring them onto the general public."

Six 10-ounce bottles of Coca Cola were priced at 70 cents in returnable bottles and at 65 cents in no-deposit bottles. But the actual cost for the returnable package was 58 cents when the 12-cent refund was deducted.

Trudeau Remains Undecided About Filling Cabinet Posts

OTTAWA (CP) — Liberal Leader Trudeau said today he has not yet filled any cabinet post.

"I'm still in the juggling process," he told reporters on his return from a brief vacation and before entering a cabinet meeting, probably the last headed by Prime Minister Pearson.

Mr. Trudeau said he will not appoint a deputy prime minister, at least at this time.

He added that speculation about such a post did not originate with him with former trade minister Winters.

Mr. Trudeau said neither Mr. Winter nor External Affairs Minister Martin has yet indicated to him definitely whether they wish to remain in the cabinet.

He is expected to confer with both men soon.

Mr. Trudeau said with a grin that he would assess the ministers at the cabinet meeting before choosing his administration.

Many of the ministers were Florida tans as they arrived for the meeting. These included Mr. Trudeau himself, T. E. A. S. Board President Benson, Health Minister MacEachen, Transport Minister Hellyer and Industry Minister Drury.

One of the issues expected to be at least touched on during the cabinet session was the Ottawa-Quebec-Paris tangle about Canadian representation at an international education conference opening in Paris Monday, the same day Mr. Trudeau is expected to take over as prime minister.

Mr. Pearson may hold a press conference later this week.

SOLICITOR - GENERAL Larry Pennell, above, has resigned from the cabinet effective today. Prime Minister Pearson announced to reporters in Ottawa, Mr. Pearson also said after a cabinet meeting that he and Liberal Leader Trudeau have agreed that Mr. Trudeau will take over as prime minister on Monday.

British Air Ace Dies At Age Of 86

EASTBOURNE, England (AP) — Sir John Salmond, 86, marshal of the RAF and a pioneer of British aviation, died Tuesday. Salmond commanded one of Britain's first fighting air squadrons in 1914 and later rose to chief of the air staff.

Buckingham Palace Next?

Schumacher, director of McCulloch's Lake Havasu City development, said, "If we don't win the bid, we'll just all have breakfast" at the news conference.

The price was estimated unofficially at $2,000,000. Schumacher said it would cost about $260,000 to ship the 10,000 tons of granite to Arizona.

GOES TO RESORT

McCulloch planned to rebuild the bridge at Lake Havasu City, a resort on the Colorado River. The 134-year-old bridge joins the liners Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth and sundry churches and castles on the transatlantic journey.

"How much for Buckingham Palace?" asked on Briton of the monument drain.

A London Bridge has spanned the Thames in one form or another since Roman times 2,000 years ago. It has been falling down for centuries in the popular nursery rhyme.

The present bridge, built in 1831 and one of 12 across the Thames in London, is too narrow for today's heavy traffic. A wider bridge will replace it.

Fighting Spurs Across Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — Fighting accelerated in South Vietnam Tuesday and today with 45 combined forces soldiers and at least 56 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese reported killed in clashes around Saigon and Khe Sanh.

The U.S. Marines on the Khe Sanh front took their heaviest casualties in two weeks—17 killed and 35 wounded—when a marine patrol attacked North Vietnamese bunkers four miles south-southwest of the U.S. base in the northwest corner of the country.

An estimated 40 North Vietnamese hit the marine combat patrol with mortars and rockets and then laid down intense small arms fire. U.S. fighter-bombers and artillery pounded the bunkers until the North Vietnamese escaped about midnight.

At least seven North Vietnamese were reported killed.

ATTACKS RENEWED

North Vietnamese artillery attacks on the Khe Sanh base, which subsided after the siege was lifted April 5, also have increased this week.

To the south, combined forces troops pushing through jungles and rice paddies reported six sharp clashes within 35 miles of Saigon. It was one of the busiest days so far in Operation Complete Victory, the 100,000-man sweep which began April 8.

South Vietnamese troops with U.S. air support fought for an hour with a Viet Cong force 16 miles northwest of the city. Twenty-six Viet Cong bodies were found and one government soldier was reported wounded.

A platoon of newly equipped North Vietnamese attacked American patrol 23 miles east of Saigon, giving weight to intelligence reports that sizable numbers of northern troops are infiltrating the capital area and the Mekong Delta.

The North Vietnamese had new green fatigue uniforms, steel helmets, a mm unit and packs and other gear. The U.S. troops estimated they killed a dozen of the North Vietnamese and reported two Americans killed.

The Viet Cong also fired more than 100 mortar rounds into an officers training centre and a police headquarters five to six miles north of Saigon, killing four South Vietnamese and wounding 30.

In the air war, B-52 bombers made six more attacks on the A Shau Valley west of Hue, a major infiltration route from Laos. The U.S. command suspects the North Vietnamese there may be preparing for another attack on Hue.

U.S. pilots flying missions against North Vietnam stayed below the 19th parallel Tuesday for the 13th successive day, military sources said. The deepest reported penetration was a strike by navy A-6 Intruders on a railway siding 22 miles north of Vinh, about two miles south of the parallel.

Garbage Men Win Fight After Dr. King's Death

Memphis' 1,300 garbage collectors return to their jobs today after settlement of a labor dispute that brought Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. to the city where he was killed. Ahead of the strikers, 98 per cent of them Negroes, was the mammoth job of clearing streets and vacant lots of refuse accumulated during the 65-day walkout. Under the pact, sanitation workers, now making from $1.65 to $2.10 an hour, will get a 10-cent hourly pay increase May 1 and another five cents an hour Sept. 1, along with union recognition and dues.

Negro Councilman J. O. Patterson Jr. said this was substantially the same formula approved by the city only two weeks after the strike began, before some members reversed their positions.

Police Tuesday in Mexico City were searching for a bearded man who was reported to have invited a New York State woman for a boat ride last Wednesday, a day before she was found murdered in the Pacific coast resort of Puerto Escondido. Three witnesses, one of them a Montreal photography student, were said to have seen the man talk to Dorothy Sandra Futterman in a restaurant the day before her body was found on a beach, her skull fractured by blows.

A 68-year-old grandfather climbed to safety from a second-floor window in Midland City as fire broke out in two downtown buildings Tuesday causing damage estimated at $110,000. Henry Purcell helped members of his family from a suite in one of the frame buildings, then climbed out of a window and slid down a wire to the sidewalk 15 feet below.

Members of Rene Levesque's sovereign state movement will decide at a convention this weekend whether they should become a separatist political party. Mr. Levesque said Tuesday in Montreal. The movement, which advocates a sovereign Quebec with economic ties to the rest of Canada, was organized by the former Quebec cabinet minister last November, when he broke with the provincial Liberal party over the constitutional issue. He now sits as an independent member in the Quebec legislature.

In Rio De Janeiro a housewife turned up in court to prove she was not murdered by her husband. And the husband, Manuel Carlos Faustino, who spent 23 months in a Brazilian jail awaiting trial for murder, was sentenced to two years in prison on a reduced charge of attempted murder. The mistake came to light when the judge noted the absence of medical evidence of examination of the body. He ordered inquiries, which revealed that Mrs. Faustino is alive and well, after recovering from stab wounds inflicted by the accused in a family quarrel. She told the court she has forgiven him.

A 39-year-old man was being held in a provincial mental hospital at Surrey for psychiatric treatment Tuesday after a student pilot buzzed a busy freeway bridge Monday. RCMP Insp. W. R. Morrison said the pilot, who made nearly 20 passes under the four-lane Port Mann Bridge over the Fraser River, was committed for an indefinite period after he was treated for slashed wrists. Police declined to identify the man they took into custody in a meadow following the buzzing of the bridge Monday. Officials of the British Columbia Aero Club said he was John Hogan of Surrey.

Yvon Dupuis said Tuesday in Montreal his two trials cost him a fortune, but it was worth every penny to have his name cleared. The former minister without portfolio in Prime Minister Pearson's cabinet was speaking in an interview shortly after he was acquitted at a second trial on an influence-peddling charge. "This fresh spring air—it seems fresher for me today than it has for three years," he said. "I'm going away for a rest. I want to forget the whole business."

A huge U.S. merger involving the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railways will have no adverse effect on their employees and operations in Canada, the Canadian transport commission was told Tuesday. Robert W. No cutbacks are planned in freight or passenger services in British Columbia and Manitoba.

A record of the birth of Justice Minister Trudeau in Quebec Superior Court here shows that he was born Oct. 18, 1919, and not 1921 as shown in the Parliamentary Guide. This makes the recently-elected leader of the federal Liberals 48 years old and not 46 as shown in biographical material issued by Mr. Trudeau's organization during the leadership campaign. The birth record in the Superior Court office shows the following names at birth: Joseph Philippe Pierre Yves Elotte Trudeau. This compares with the style used by the justice minister today which is Pierre Elliott Trudeau.

Insurance executive John Clover today was elected president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Great Britain. Clover, 59, is a vice-president of the Federation of Rocky Mountain States.

The proposal, developed by a former U.S. Bureau of Reclamation engineer, calls for an outlay of some $75,000,000,000 and would result in an extensive network throughout the west, pumping water as far south as the southern Rio Grande Valley in Texas and east into Nebraska and Kansas.

At a news conference Wyoming Gov. Stanley Hathaway said the federation is not trying to promote the plan or compete with the Western States Water Council.

"We're not in the business of trying to find new water sources," Hathaway said. "The primary thrust of the federation is economic development."

Hathaway said the federation was using the conference in Boise as a forum to present the idea, but was not necessarily actively supporting it.

The developing engineer, Lewis G. Smith, now is associated with a private engineering firm in Cheyenne, Wyo.

The original sources for the diversion plan would be the British Columbia coastal area, the upper Yukon River Basin, the Liard-Mackenzie Basin and the central lake collection system, all in Canada.

The transmission system would utilize portions of such streams as the Missouri, Snake, Green, Colorado and Rio Grande Rivers, linking them by canals and pumping systems.

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Details of a plan to import Canadian water into the western United States were outlined today to the Federation of Rocky Mountain States.

New Decimal Coins Ready For Circulation In Britain

LONDON (CP) — British shoppers will get that North American feeling next week with their first coin to handle new decimal coinage.

The royal mint today announced it will put two new coins into circulation next Tuesday—a five new penny piece to be used exactly like a shilling and a 10 new penny coin which is interchangeable with the present two shilling piece.

The new coins—a total of 35,000,000 will be produced—to provide Britons with a taste of what the new 1971 decimal system will be like.

The new pieces will be shaped exactly like their present equivalents so that they can fit gas meters and other coin-operating machines.

Recognizing the new pieces will be fairly easy. The five new penny coin will have the traditional portrait of the Queen on one side and a Scottish thistle on the other. The 10 new penny coin also will have the Queen on one side and an English lion on the other. Both will be dated 1968—the year of minting.

While shoppers get the feel of the new pieces, the mint will open a massive advertising campaign in national and provincial newspapers and in children's magazines to explain how the new system will work.

REDUCE COINS TO SIX

On D-Day—Decimal Day, Feb. 15, 1971—Britain will stage a complete changeover with the pound remaining unchanged but with 100 new pennies to the pound instead of the present 240. There will be six coins instead of the current seven.

In addition to the five new penny and the 10 new penny, there will be three copper coins: new half penny, new penny, two new pence and a 50 new penny piece to replace the present 10-shilling note.

The present halfpenny will cease to be legal tender from Aug. 1, 1969, and the halfpenny by the end of 1969. Both these coins will disappear from circulation before D-Day.

But it won't be possible to make a complete changeover overnight, the mint said, and so for some months after D-Day, Britons will still have to think and calculate in both currencies—until new sufficient coin-operated machines are produced.

Shops are expected to help shoppers before and during the changeover by marking prices both in pounds, shillings and pence and in the new decimal system.

Newfoundland Fishermen Seeking Aid From Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Officials of the floundering Newfoundland fishing industry meet Fisheries Minister Robichaud here today to outline their bid for vitally-needed federal support.

Mr. Robichaud, in an interview Tuesday, termed the meeting important but was non-committal when asked for reaction to a proposal that his government introduce a support price for fish similar to that paid on many farm products.

"I'm not prepared to say that the answer to their problems is price support," he said.

Newfoundland fishery officials made the proposal in a 15-page brief they circulated among officials here and in their home province.

Mr. Robichaud said the main purpose of today's meeting is "to allow them to discuss this brief with me."

"Following our talks I will report to the cabinet," he said.

He said it is unlikely any immediate decisions will be announced. However, he expected early cabinet consideration of the situation.

The most serious problem confronting the Newfoundland industry, and other parts of the Atlantic Provinces, appears to be in the quick-frozen fish sector which has gradually been replacing the traditional salt-cured, sun-dried cod process.

The crux of the problem is the ever-stiffer competition for Canadian fish in the U.S. market—which absorbs some 70 per cent of all Canadian fish exports—from East and West Germany, Russia, Poland and other countries whose catch is subsidized by government.

Mr. Robichaud said his reservations about a support price for fish here centre on the possibility of such a policy "having very serious effects on our marketing."

U.S. 'Never Was Stronger' Yet Authority Diminishes

LONDON (AP) — The United States never has been stronger militarily yet American political authority in the world has diminished, an authoritative British study group reported today.

The Institute for Strategic Studies said "the growing divorce" between American power and authority was the most striking development of 1967. U.S. military power is likely to become stronger still, it said.

"The United States in 1967 was richer and more powerful and perhaps more uncertain of herself than at any time since World War II," the institute said in its Strategic Survey 1967, a review of the world's military and political status.

It said the U.S. "can concentrate a greater weight of man and supplies within a few hundred miles of China's borders than China can, and her increase in tactical air power is dramatic."

"Yet she made very little headway either in promoting the pacification of South Vietnam or in weakening the resistance of North Vietnam," a much smaller power than China.

The institute also said the Soviet Union soon may reach parity with the United States in strategic offensive missiles.

Completion of silos begun in previous years brought the ICBM force to 720, doubling the numbers available at the end of 1966 and raising the Soviet force to almost three-quarters the number of its American land-based ICBM equivalent.

Law Not A Good Vehicle For Regulating Morality

In half a dozen countries around the world race discrimination is a paramount problem. There is, for instance, the situation in the United States, in Rhodesia and in Britain. It was somewhat appropriate that on the day of the funeral of Dr. Martin Luther King in the United States the British government published its new proposals to outlaw racial discrimination in that country.

But all the laws in the world cannot overcome prejudice. All the civil rights legislation in the United States has failed to ensure equal treatment of colored people there. It is possible to ban color-bar advertisements for houses and jobs, but it is not possible to prevent an owner or an employer finding other reasons for rejecting a colored applicant.

The immigrants now in Britain freely chose to go and live there because they admire the British way of life. Is not the best protection they can have already inherent in that way of life? No government and no parliament has the power to command peace between races. That can only come about through the growth of tolerance and understanding between individuals.

Race relations are a moral issue and the law is not a good vehicle for regulating morality.

The aim of most racial legislation is not merely to safeguard individual rights but also to encourage the absorption of colored people into the community. Yet those who may feel obliged by law to give actual privileges to colored clients or employees may be inclined to find lawful excuses for avoiding contact with them altogether.

In the United States Congress has passed three civil rights bills in the past two or three years. It has just passed one. President Johnson has done his best to forbid discrimination by means of legislation, but it is one thing to pass legislation and another to enforce it.

Yet it is worth affirming good principles, and a gesture by the U.S. Congress or the British Parliament is appropriate at a time when dangers of racial passions are being frightfully illustrated. Acts of goodwill should encourage the moderates on both sides.

Mr. Martin Stands Out

One respect in which the Liberal convention was peculiarly like the Conservative convention last fall has generally missed public comment. In each case the party turned its back on an old and faithful servant. The Conservatives, of course, brusquely—and with some justification—turned Mr. Diefenbaker aside. The Liberals also turned their backs on an old and faithful servant, Paul Martin. The public memory is short. But, then, hard, practical politics allows no place for sentiment, especially in the serious business of choosing a national leader.

Mr. Martin emerged from that convention with increased prestige. Undoubtedly he was hurt by the count of the first ballot, but he refused to show it. He was almost a pathetic figure and the gasp of the crowd as his vote was announced indicated that most people were sympathetic to him. He was generous and graceful in defeat, and won not only the sympathy but the admiration of the convention and the viewers throughout the country.

Undoubtedly Mr. Martin saw the writing on the wall before the balloting began. Nevertheless, it took more than courage and good sportsmanship to swallow the bitterness of such a blow to his lifelong ambition. It took genuine statesmanship.

More than 40 years in politics helped him hide the hurt of the shock. But his acceptance of defeat was more than a pose, far more than the automatic reaction of a veteran fighter to a blow to the solar-plexus. There was a real nobility about it, an acceptance of the plain facts, a willingness to continue serving the party of his youth and age, and a dignified refusal to join in any attempt to "get back at" the man whose meteoric rise, more than anything else, knocked Mr. Martin's feet from under him.

Freedom A Misused Word

Freedom is a much used and misused word. For example, it applies to today's youth, in both contexts. Youth has more freedom in the sense that fewer demands are made upon their services in the home. And at least a percentage of youths interpret the word to mean "licence"—an anything goes type of philosophy.

In the field of education, the division system is in some way related to freedom, the freedom of each child to progress at his own speed. In some centres, the system of education has "progressed" further, to the point where students more or less decide for themselves what they will study.

A few schools are in existence but it's not likely the system will reach wide acceptance for some time. One of these schools is at Newton, Mass., where 107 students (with five teachers) take regular classes three times a week and have a wide variety of subjects to choose from on the other two days.

They're enthusiastic about their experiment in self-education but it's interesting to note that, almost without exception, their reaction is: "You can't lie to yourself . . . freedom is hard work."

Said one student: "You can't take advantage of this school. You're always thinking of what you're doing."

According to the Christian Science Monitor, many said they had just recently realized the burden of freedom and begun to face up to it. Said one teacher: "The students are a lot harder on themselves than their parents. So they're doing amazing things but discounting them because they are fun and consequently not viewed as constructive work."

More than 50 per cent of the students are tutors on two days a week and one student said he had learned a lot from it. "I had no idea we'd tutor and help kids out—well, I don't know now whether it's helping them but it sure is me."

It may be a long time before schools of this type become universal but certainly, even in the more common regimented system, there is a tendency to give the students more "freedom"—more scope to discover themselves and for themselves.

Selection Of Trudeau Hands NDP A Problem

OTTAWA (CP)—Selection of Pierre Elliott Trudeau as Liberal leader has put new pressure on the New Democratic Party to follow suit and change leaders. But no switch is expected for the time being.

NDP Leader T. C. Douglas, 63, told his party's federal council, at more than a year ago to start shopping for a successor. In effect, he had already begun the gradual process of easing himself out in favor of a younger man.

But party sources make it clear Mr. Douglas will fight the next federal election, expected this year or next, before stepping down. There is a feeling, but no understanding, among top party people that he will step down in 1969 or 1970.

The precise timing depends on his wishes, those of the party hierarchy, the NDP showing in the next election and the availability of a top-ranked successor. Nothing is definite.

Other factors include the performance of Mr. Trudeau as prime minister and as a vote-getter. Mr. Trudeau takes over from Prime Minister Lester Pearson this month following a leadership convention victory April 6.

Any leadership change by a political party forces a leadership reassessment by the others. And both the Conservatives and Liberals have changed since last September.

The displacement of John

Diefenbaker by Robert Stanfield as Conservative leader did not cause much soul-searching in the NDP. It was felt that Mr. Douglas was at no disadvantage to the slow-speaking 54-year-old Nova Scotian.

But Mr. Trudeau is a swinging, charismatic 46, unlike the staid Stanfield. Moreover the French-Canadian Liberal leader is regarded as a reformer, at least by the public, and is therefore a threat to the NDP's occupancy of Left field.

Had the Liberals chosen runner-up Robert Winters, the former trade minister, External Affairs Minister Martin or somebody of that stripe, either certainly middle-of-the-road or right-leaning, then the NDP would have had to combat only the new look, not a new direction and a strong personal appeal.

STRATEGISTS WAIT

NDP strategists give no indication of reacting immediately to the Trudeau arrival with a leadership change in the near future. They are content to see how Mr. Trudeau wears in a slightly longer haul. But at the moment, it does add another reason for change.

The logical time for a Douglas retirement is at the next biennial party convention in the middle of 1969. The leader's job comes up for review at each convention.

The NDP is expected to follow the Conservative and Liberal lead and have a wide-open succession contest with at least half a dozen prominent contenders in the field. There might be twice that many.

Hazen Argue, who later defected to the Liberals, was Mr. Douglas's only opponent for leader at the 1961 founding convention of the NDP. Mr. Douglas won by a wide margin over Mr. Argue, later appointed to the Senate.

There is scarcely a chance of another two-man NDP contest. NDP strategists recognize a full-scale contest must be held if only to make an impact on the public. Both the Liberals and Conservatives reaped great publicity from their conventions.

YOUNG BLOOD

As NDP succession talk begins anew, there are strong indications of a flock of young contenders.

If one is selected it would be the first time the party, or its CCF predecessor founded in 1932, was in the hands of someone other than a four- or five-tyer.

Foremost among the new breed are Charles Taylor, the 38-year-old Montreal University professor, and Laurier Lapierre, 38, the former television interviewer now doing a lot of grass-roots speaking.

Their prospects depend largely on whether they can win their Montreal seats in the next election. Both are party vice-presidents.

David Lewis, 58, MP for York South, a power in the party from the early years, is another prospect. But there are many younger men who could become candidates including his son, Stephen, 30, a member of the Ontario legislature.

Among the farther-out possibilities are John Harney, 37, the Ontario party's provincial secretary, Robert Cliche, 47, the Quebec leader, and Tom Berger, 35, the British Columbia MLA who unsuccessfully tried to unseat his provincial leader, Robert Stanfield, last year.

James Renwick, 60, the party's national president may try. So might federal MPs Stanley Knowles and Andrew Brewin.

Domino Theory Scanned Again

By PHILIP DEANE
Foreign Affairs Analyst

At worst, after the U.S. withdraws from Vietnam, the whole of South East Asia, and even India and Pakistan will go Communist and the problems of that region are so immense that Communism will go bankrupt. At best, nobody will go Communist, not even South Vietnam. South Vietnam is the most likely to go Communist and to join North Vietnam. But the first order of priority for all Vietnamese will be how to keep big brother Mao out. The first order of priority for the North Koreans was to get big brother Mao out, after that war. In the ideological quarrels between Moscow and Peking, North Korea sides with Moscow.

Which does not mean that North Korea is America's friend. But the lack of friendship is not due to Communism; it is due to nationalism and to some racialism in this case. America and Nazi Germany fought, yet Hitler was no Communist.

Nor is friendship very much more than skin deep or even always useful. The U.S. had friendly relations with Papa Doc Duvalier, the sanguinary witch doctor dictator of Haiti; one fails to see how this enhances the U.S. position. American officials express approval of the anti-Communist colonels who overthrew democracy in Greece. Yet the colonels are miffed enough with the U.S. over Cyprus to talk of turning to Russia as Nasser did in 1956. Friendship is a some time thing.

And whatever its value, friendship does not seem to bloom whenever one large nation is giving economic or military aid to a small nation: "on ne pardonne jamais un bienfait"—one never forgives a good deed, say the French who ought to know.

The point is that the U.S. cannot win friends and influence people by being in South East Asia. Absence makes the heart grow fonder in terms of nationalism and it is nationalism that is the most relevant political "ism" in Asia. If South Vietnam goes communist, it will undoubtedly join North Vietnam in ousting Chinese influence. It is not inconceivable that the North Vietnamese now operating within Laos will help those Laotians who oppose China.

And they will be so preoccupied with defending themselves against Chinese infiltration that they will certainly not allow their backs to be turned by having Cambodia or Thailand come under Chinese domination.

But can such small countries resist Chinese domination? Burma has. It has an enormous border with China. It has Communist guerrillas which it fights and they get little or no help from China. China, despite her enormous reservoirs of manpower, does not want to get bogged down in a guerrilla war all along her borders. With a gross national product of $30,000,000,000 a year, China can afford war much less than can the U.S. with a gross national product of eight hundred billion.

Successful guerrilla wars are fought by natives of the soil against foreigners. They are fought for nationalist, not ideological reasons, and they are won because of nationalism, which will keep the domino theory from working, in the sense that South East Asia will not become China's property.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Sir: The following was taken from the local publication of the Kelowna and District Jaycees:

With the forthcoming school referendum it brings to my mind the question—how will this affect those who live within the city limits and those who live outside the city? Will the assessment of each be equal? I think not, and in all fairness, it should. The first reason being that regardless of where you live, inside or outside the city limits, if your child is a high school student he will attend a city high school.

Therefore, each student will receive equal opportunity and in addition the out-of-town student is supplied transportation to and from school, while some students inside the city limits walk a mile or more to obtain the same education.

Why should the assessment of school taxes not be equal? Is it not true that those living in the rural areas pay less than half in school taxes as those living in comparable dwellings within the city?

The argument now lies in assessment for school taxes only and not in municipal assessment.

It has been observed that one of the main reasons people build outside city limits is because of lower taxes. Should not school taxes, which comprise over half of the home-owner's taxes, be spread out equally among rural and city taxpayers and thus everyone would share equally the burden of these taxes.

In this manner it would be easier for this school district to build the required facilities with more income and without over-taxing the city home-owner.

In conclusion, our rural friends working in our city businesses expect the same rate of pay and expect to enjoy the same educational facilities. Why should they not pay the same school taxes in comparison to the value of the dwelling rather than the value of the property it stands on?

CANADA'S STORY

Acadians Pressured To Quit Nova Scotia

By BOB BOWMAN

One of the products of Centennial Year was a good play about Louis Riel. Canadian dramatists would also find excellent material for a play or an opera in the Acadian rivalry between Charles La Tour and D'Aulnay Charnisay, through complicated circumstances both of them claimed to be the lawful Governor of Acadia when France regained the area from England in 1632.

La Tour had been made a Baronet of Nova Scotia during the English occupation, and built a fort at the mouth of the St. John river, where the city of Saint John now stands. Charnisay had a fort at Port Royal across the river from Champlain's original "Habitation".

There were many fights between the rivals, and Charnisay saw an opportunity to get the upper hand in 1645 when La Tour had to go to Boston for supplies. The fort had been left in charge of Madame La Tour, a very brave lady.

Charnisay sailed across the Bay of Fundy and attacked Fort La Tour on April 13, but Madame La Tour encouraged her men to fight and held off the invaders until April 17 which was Easter Sunday. Then Charnisay, chagrined because he was being defeated by a woman, promised that all lives would be spared if the fort were surrendered. Some of his troops were already inside owing to the treachery of a sentry.

Madame La Tour agreed to the terms, but when Charnisay entered he ordered all of the La Tour soldiers to be hanged, while he forced Madame La Tour to watch with a rope around her neck. She died a few weeks later of a broken heart.

Charles La Tour gained a strange revenge. Charnisay was drowned five years later when his canoe upset. There is a story that an Indian could have saved him, but held his head under water instead! Then Charles La Tour regained his fort, sailed across the bay and married Madame Charnisay. Their union ended the costly rivalry.

ANN LANDERS

Ann's Childhood Memory Had Different Affect

Dear Ann Landers: That letter from Mervyn, the big sport who won a trip to London as first prize in a sales contest made me laugh. It seems his girl was disappointed when he brought her a clump of dirt from the British Airport and called it a "gift."

I laughed, Ann, because it reminded me of a little game we used to play when we were kids. It's too bad the girl didn't know about the game because it would have been an appropriate way to thank Mervyn for his "generosity."

When a new kid moved into our neighborhood we would welcome him warmly and offer to tell his fortune. The fortune teller would wrap a dish towel around his head and use an old bowl as the crystal ball. The newcomer would extend his hand and the fortune teller would put a clump of dirt in his palm, and say, "You are going to inherit a valuable piece of land in the best part of town. You will build a 15-room house on the lot. It will be the prettiest home in the city." Then the fortune teller would reach under his chair where he had a small glass of water handy and pour a little water into the newcomer's hand — enough to make a nice muddy mess and say, "I see you are also going to have a swimming pool. Aren't you the lucky one?"

This was considered the best way to test a newcomer. If he laughed and took it well he was accepted as O.K. Thanks for bringing back a childhood memory. — EX FORTUNE

Dear Ex: Funny you should have brought up that little game. Someone tried it on me when I was eight. I remember clearly that I thanked the fortune teller profusely and paid him for reading by insisting that he share my real estate and swimming pool. He got half of it back — right in the kisser.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's brother and his wife are creating a serious problem in our family and I need your help. They drive a very old car and it always has something wrong with it. Our car is not new but it is in excellent condition because we keep it that way.

At least twice a week they ask if they can borrow our car. My brother-in-law is a poor driver and has been in several minor accidents. Yesterday he returned our car with a broken tail light, an empty gas tank and a mysterious dent in the fender. Yet my husband insists we must let them take our car whenever they ask. He says he would never forgive himself if they were killed because the brakes knocked out on their car or a tire blew. He claims we would be directly responsible. Also, he says he does not want them to be mad at us.

I would like to hear your views. — MARRIED TO A CHUMP

Dear Married: In a situation like this, somebody is bound to be mad. Let it be them. If your brother-in-law is such a ding-a-ling that he would drive a beat up pile of junk with faulty brakes, whatever happens is HIS responsibility. When you lend your car to a friend in an emergency you are a "nice guy," but when you lend it to a relative who doesn't have the decency to return it with some gas in the tank, you are a chump.

Japanese Films To Be Seen At St. David's Hall

Mrs. Anne Briggs, who has procured three Japanese films from the Consulate General in Vancouver will show them at a public viewing on April 19 at 8 p.m. in St. David's Presbyterian Church Hall.

The three films, which have already been shown at four local schools and viewed by close to 500 students and teachers are: Children's Songs of Japan; Traditional Music of Japan; and Living Arts of Japan.

They are in color with English commentary and a musical background and are gems of art, particularly the Living Arts film which demonstrates pottery making, lacquer work, bamboo craftsmanship, wood block painting, and painting by masters.

Proceeds from the showing will go to the Kelowna Single Parents for Progress Society and children under 13 will be admitted free. So if you are interested in Japan, remember Friday night at St. David's Church Hall.

Pearson's Pledge Then Was Provide Excitement

OTTAWA (CP) — Five years ago this month Lester B. Pearson became Canada's 14th prime minister with a pledge that his term would be a "time to excite the daring, to test the strong and to give new promise to the timid."

Next week the Pearson era comes to a close, leaving behind a massive legislative record of social, economic and administrative change stamped indelibly on the Canadian framework.

Undoubtedly the great personal accomplishment of the era was Mr. Pearson's determined campaign in 1964 that led to parliamentary adoption of a distinctive Canadian flag.

The most emotional moment has to be 12:01 a.m. last July 1 when Confederation entered its second century and 50,000 swarmed on to Parliament Hill to sing O Canada and watch proudly as the maple leaf flag rose above the Peace Tower amid a blaze of fireworks.

LESTER B. PEARSON
... five-year record

There were two new breakthroughs in social welfare—the Canada Pension Plan and the medical insurance plan. The first is already in its third year of operation and the second begins July 1 when at least two provinces plan to implement it.

Most politicians agree that these are the last of the universal welfare measures likely in this generation.

O Canada became the official national anthem—without words—by a simple motion of adoption for a Commons committee report. It went through almost without notice one day last spring. A decision on the official lyrics is expected when the Commons resumes April 23.

Major changes in the divorce law, broadening the grounds to cover most aspects of marriage breakdown, will come into being this year.

All Fun Of Great Outdoors Seen At Boys' Club Event

By MABEL JOHNSON

VERNON—To see the latest equipment for recreation, fun and games in the great outdoors, everyone should visit Boys' Club Vacation, '68, Friday and Saturday, in the Vernon Civic Arena.

This is the second annual affair of its kind, and is sponsored by Vernon Boys' Club. Admission is free. On April 19, the first day, doors will open at 1 p.m. to 10 p.m.; on the following day, Saturday, doors will open at 10 a.m. through 10 p.m.

Harvey Gee is chairman of the exhibition, which sells space to the exhibitors, and these funds go to Vernon Boys' Club, which, although it now owns its own premises on Mara Street, are not large enough for the club's activities. A club spokesman states that the organization hopes to launch a capital fund-raising campaign shortly, to provide funds with which to enlarge its premises.

Anything connected with vacation, sports, and out-of-door activities will be on display at Boys' Club Vacation, '68, including trailers of all types; boats; sports cars; tents; fishing tackle; picnic equipment; out-of-door furniture, and many other items. There will be special attractions, door prizes, a competition, and the Boys' Club Ladies' Auxiliary will run a concession at the show. Incidentally, the LA is active, and sponsors a wide range of money-raising projects.

Boys' Club is headed by Gordon Sladen as president; William Hesketh vice-president; John Bruce, secretary; Frank Telfer, treasurer; Ron Weir, past president. On the board of directors are: Al Desimone, who is chairman of the fund-raising campaign; Harvey Gee, Dick Fie, Mrs. Douglas Cole, Mrs. John Knight, Romeo Sibille, Ted Anderson and W. L. Seaton.

Easily Sustained Growth Seen In Canadian Report

By KEN SMITH
Canadian Press Business Editor

A new review of 1967's economic accomplishments and a key forecast of prospects for this year indicated last week that the country is in a period of more easily sustainable expansion.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported that the rate of price increases slowed in 1967 to 3.9 per cent, compared with 4.5 per cent the previous year.

Counting the price increases, the gross national product climbed 6.8 per cent to $62,068,000,000.

Reflecting the slower rate of climbing prices, the report said the general profile of the economy last year, and especially in the second half, was one of widespread easing of demand pressures.

BLAME PRESSURES

These had been blamed for sparking inflationary trends within the economy.

Indications that the easier trend can be expected to continue at least for the rest of this year came in the annual forecast of spending intentions prepared by DBS and the department of trade and commerce.

Based on surveys of about 24,000 businesses as well as governments, it shows capital spending by all sectors of the economy this year should climb by a modest four per cent to $15,802,000,000 from $15,174,000,000 last year.

This growth should be comfortably accommodated within available resources which are no longer under the demand strains experienced in the mid-1960s, the report says.

The DBS report on 1967's GNP showed that business investment in new plants fell 3 1/2 per cent in 1967, while spending on equipment dropped two per cent.

Most loans under the National Housing Act were made at 8 1/2 to 8 3/4 per cent, and by the end of the month the conventional rate had risen to nine or 9 1/4 per cent. In centres like Sarnia, North Bay, Halifax and Ottawa, 9 1/2-per-cent rates were noted, the company said. Saint John, N.B., saw some business done at 9 3/4 per cent.

mines, which had large investment programs which reached a peak in 1966.

Spending by fuel and power companies, including distribution systems, is expected to rise to $2,321,000,000 from $2,189,000,000, marking the only significant increase in business investment this year.

Elsewhere on the business scene, the Mortgage Insurance Co. of Canada reported that mortgage rates increased across most of Canada in March. Funds generally remained in short supply.

PLANS BOGGED DOWN

Agriculture was promised a double ministry, one for Western Canada farmers and another for the East, but the idea bogged down in administrative snags.

For the most part, however, the government pushed ahead with its program despite its minority position in Parliament and twice went to the extreme limit of imposing a debating deadline.

The first occasion was in the flag debate when a closure motion was introduced to force a successful vote. The other was on the bill to unify the three armed services, when a new "guillotine" rule limiting debate was invoked.

In his farewell speech as party leader during the Liberal leadership convention, Mr. Pearson reviewed briefly his government's record and added:

"We have, in short, changed the face of Canada and, I hope and believe, have made it better."

Church To Mark 60th Birthday

RUTLAND (Special) — The committee in charge of the plans for the forthcoming celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of the opening of the Rutland Methodist Church in Rutland, on the site of the present United Church, finalized plans for the event at a meeting on Monday.

The dinner, which is to be held in the new Rutland Centennial Community Centre April 23 at 6:30 p.m., is planned to accommodate up to 350 persons, and will be open to the public, and not restricted to members and former members of the local church.

Rev. E. S. Fleming has word from two former pastors of the church who will attend, Rev. Percy Mallet and Rev. J. A. B. Adams, and also Rev. Kermit Eutin, a local member of the church who was subsequently ordained. The members of the Rutland Methodist Church, known as the Whelan Appointment in the early days, are to be included in the celebration, their church (the old Ellison schoolhouse) being a branch of the Rutland Mountview Church at the time. Lists of old time members have been drawn up, and efforts are being made to contact as many as possible, where the addresses are known.

The program that has been arranged will include numbers by the senior and junior choirs, vocal solos and brief addresses by Rev. Mr. Fleming and others. Rev. Howard R. Hall, the local minister, will chair the proceedings. Old time pictures and mementos of the early days are to be on display.

VERNON—T. Everard Clarke, who retired as general manager of the Shuswap Okanagan Dairy Industries Co-operative Association earlier this year, was honored at the group's annual meeting.

Mr. Clarke was presented with a life membership in the association by President, E. C. Stoddard, in recognition of his 43 years service with the co-op. Mrs. Clarke was presented with a bouquet of roses by vice-president, Reg Saunders.

MARRIAGES MOUNTS

LONDON (CP) — Britain's headlong rush into matrimony continues, according to the British registrar general. Statistics show there were 334,000 weddings in 1966, the highest total since the post-war boom of the late 1940s, but the rate of divorce is creeping up as well. There were 47,000 cases filed that year, only 2,000 less than the record year of 1947.

ONE OF THE bigger reasons for the success of the Minnesota North Stars in their Stanley Cup quarter-finals against the Los Angeles Kings has been the play of goaltender Cesare Maniago. His play has bordered on the fantastic side for the entire series, now tied at three games apiece. Maniago is shown above displaying his talents in a recent game.

No Excuses Offered For Rangers' Loss

CHICAGO (CP) — Coach Emile Francis of New York Rangers just hung his head. No excuses. His Rangers had just blown a 2-0 lead in games to lose 4-2 to Chicago Black Hawks in the National Hockey League quarter-final series.

But he felt his Rangers, who fell 4-1 Tuesday night in the sixth game of the best-of-seven series, lost everything Sunday on a garbage goal.

Francis planned the series and the game on Sunday night's contest when rookie Bob Schmautz scored on a long, bouncing goal from center ice that eluded goalie Ed Giacomin and went in to give the Hawks a 2-1 victory and a 3-2 edge in games with home ice Tuesday night.

Schmautz said at the time he was just trying to get the puck in the Ranger zone during a line change and didn't even see the winning rally.

LUCK RIDING HIGH

"That goal really killed us," said Francis Tuesday night. "We outplayed them in that game and I thought we should have won it."

"If we had, even if we had lost here, we could have returned home for the seventh game."

"It's funny—sometimes it's better to be lucky than good," said Francis Tuesday night. "The Hawks were both lucky and good Tuesday night as Bobby Hull, the perennial goal-scoring leader of the Black Hawks, turned playmaker to lead Chicago to its victory."

He set up goals by Chico Maki (the winner) and Pit Martin.

Scoring Dispute Growing Larger

NEW YORK (AP) — The telephone has been jangling constantly this week in Joe Dey's cozy office on the third floor of Golf House, 40 East 38th Street, Manhattan.

That's the heart beat of American golf.

"They're all exercised over the de Vicenzo ruling in the Masters," said Dey, a neat, precise man who looks a decade younger than his 50-odd years.

"Some insist the rules are unfair. Some just ask for information. Others wonder when they're going to be changed."

"There's not very much I can tell them. The present rules have evolved from years of testing a reformatory. They are the rules because they have been found to be the best and fairest for all concerned."

"We can't change them until 1970, at any rate. To avoid confusion, the U.S. Golf Association and the Royal and Ancient Club of St. Andrews meet only every two years to review the code. We have just made some changes."

West Series Down To Wire After Two Overtime Victories

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Tuesday was a long night in the National Hockey League's Western Division, but Milan Macerella and Don Blackburn were awake.

Macerella scored at 9:11 of the first overtime period to give Minnesota North Stars a 4-3 victory over Los Angeles Kings and Blackburn watched as his weak shot eluded goaltender Glenn Hall to give Philadelphia Flyers a 2-1 victory over St. Louis Blues after 11:18 of a second overtime period.

The two overtime goals sent the Stanley Cup quarter-final series into seventh and deciding games Thursday night.

Both series are deadlocked at three games apiece in the best-of-seven competition and Philadelphia and Los Angeles both have home ice advantage for the finals Thursday.

In Minneapolis, Macerella scored the winner as the North Stars were swarming the Kings goal following a shot from Bill Goldsworthy at the point.

The goal capped a Minnesota rally which saw the North Stars win out a 3-1 Los Angeles lead with two goals in the third period.

WALL VICTIMIZED

The North Stars opened the scoring with 8:05 gone in the opening period when Mike McMahon stole a pass from Bob Wall and went alone to beat goalie Wayne Rutledge.

Then Doug Robinson tied it for the Kings at 11:12, taking a passout from Howie Menard behind the Minnesota goal.

Real Lemieux broke the tie for Los Angeles with a 45-foot slapshot at 1:43 of the second period and Brent Hughes put the Kings in front 3-1 less than two minutes later when he beat Maniago on a breakaway.

The North Stars stormed back to tie it in the third period as Doug Robinson scored a rebound of Billy Plessner's shot from the point. McCord hit the left corner of the cage later in the period with a 16-foot shot as the North Stars rushed the net.

EDMONTON (CP) — Coach Jack Taggart sat in the Penticon Broncos' dressing room Tuesday and expressed confidence that his club could make a four-game sweep of its hockey series with Edmonton Oilers.

He had just seen his club defeat the Oilers 5-2 and take a 3-0 lead in games in the best-of-seven Western Memorial Cup semi-final.

Cardinals Move Into Lead Behind Pitching Of Briles

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer

Two plus 10 equals 12 to mathematicians and baseball statisticians, but not to Nelson Briles. Not when money is involved, he says.

"I haven't won 12 straight games," insisted the St. Louis hurler, who captured his last 10 decisions in 1967 and ran his record to 2-0 this year by pitching the Cardinals past Atlanta Braves 6-2 Tuesday night.

"It's just two in a row. I already got paid for last season."

Two or 12, Briles' logic failed to impress the Braves as much as his fast ball that stopped the home club with only two unearned runs for eight innings before Joe Hoerner pitched the ninth.

The world champion Cardinals moved back into a tie for first place with idle Houston Astros at 5-1.

Curtis Cokes Retains Title With Fifth-Round Knockout

DALLAS (AP) — Curtis Cokes used Willie Ludick's orthodox style to his advantage and beat the South African steel fitter on a fifth-round technical knockout in the fourth defence of his world's welterweight boxing championship Tuesday night.

Then he said he would take a rest until about June and also that he didn't have anybody in mind at this time for another title fight.

Percy Pugh of New Orleans, rated No. 2 by the World Boxing Association, was here to challenge Cokes.

Ludick, a 26-year-old brawler, had little chance with the sharp-punching Cokes, who started out with his familiar counter-punching with his left.

But the left-handed Ludick presented a perfect target for Cokes' right. The champion used his right more than any time in his career and it was a steaming right in the fifth that put Ludick on the downward trail.

Ludick took the automatic eight-count at the instance of referee Lew Eskin, but he still was groggy when Cokes was at him with lefts and rights that battered him into the ropes. Eskin stopped the scheduled 15-round fight at 34 seconds of the fifth round.

Cokes opened a cut over Ludick's right eye with one of his lightning lefts in the second round and the South African bled the rest of the way. Cokes also opened another cut just below the first cut and cracked the skin by the side of Ludick's nose. Ludick also had a cut on top of his head.

The champion was without a blemish and said "he never did hurt me and I can't recall but a couple of left hand shots that even stung."

First Place Draws Near

Kelowna Teamsters slipped by Peniticon 1-0 Sunday on the strength of a late goal by Hans Schweiger. The victory puts Kelowna within striking distance of first-place Kamloops, now leading the Okanagan Valley Soccer League by four points.

Kelowna has an opportunity to narrow that margin Sunday when they host Kamloops at the City Park Oval. Game time is 2:30 p.m.

In Senior B action last weekend, Peniticon dumped Kelowna 2-1. Joe Metzger scored the lone Kelowna goal.

Spokane Sweeps Doubleheader In Pacific Coast League Play

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Defending Pacific Coast League champion Spokane edged past Portland 1-0 and 2-1 in a baseball doubleheader at Portland Tuesday in the opening day of the league's 1968 season.

Five games were played with more than 21,000 PCL fans turning out to watch opening-day action on the West Coast.

Spokane pitcher Allan Foster gave up two doubles but struck out eight batters in the first game. The Indians' lone run was by Willie Crawford who scored on a sacrifice fly by catcher Jim Campanis.

In the second game, Larry Eckenrode scored on a single by Crawford after reaching first on a third inning bunt for Spokane.

The Indians' other score was by Dick McLaughlin who walked to first then scored on a double by Ted Sizemore.

Portland's lone run came in the third inning when Eddie

Leon singled to centre then scored on Gus Gil's triple.

In Seattle, the Angels opened their final season of play with a 1-0 victory over Vancouver Mounties. Next year Seattle will move into the American League as the Pilots.

Tom Egan slammed a fourth inning, double—which enabled Steve Howley to score from third and give Seattle its winning run.

Jim Coates was the winning pitcher and held Vancouver to five hits before being replaced in the eighth.

In the southwest, Phoenix pitcher Rich Robertson also held Oklahoma City to five hits to lead the Arizona team to a 1-0 win.

Meanwhile, San Diego Padres lost 2-1 to Indianapolis Indians. Clyde Mashore blanked a triple and three singles to lead the Indians' hitting. It was Mashore's single which scored the winning run for the Indians in the seventh inning.

World Trade Going Well

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — World trade continued to expand in 1967 but the rate of growth was the smallest since 1962, a United Nations report says.

The total, as measured by exports, reached a record $214,000,000,000 in 1967, representing a gain of five per cent over the previous record of $204,000,000,000 in 1966, the preliminary report of the UN statistical office said.

Canada last year edged out Japan as the fifth largest exporter with a total of $10,550,000,000 compared with $9,550,000,000 in 1966. Japan now is close behind Canada.

Compared with last year's five-per-cent growth, increases for 1965 and 1966 were 8.2 per cent and 9.2 per cent, respectively.

The lower rate of growth reflected in particular the economic slowdown in the industrialized countries, primarily those of Western Europe.

Among the major trading countries, the United States continues to lead with West Germany second, Britain third and France fourth.

MANY ISLANDS There are about 2,000 islands in the Aegean Sea.

Opening lead—ten of hearts. Which suit to attack, and when and how to attack it, will often determine the outcome of a hand. Declarer cannot properly make a decision in such a case until after he has weighed all the evidence and selected the course of play most likely to succeed.

South is in three notrump and West leads a heart. Declarer follows low from dummy and wins with the king. What should he do next?

There are several ways to play the hand. South can begin by cashing three rounds of diamonds, and if he finds the suit divided 3-3, he coasts home with ten tricks. Or if he finds the diamonds divided 4-2 with East having the four, he can safely give East a diamond trick to establish his own ninth trick.

But if declarer learns that West started with four diamonds, he may find himself in a peck of trouble. To establish the extra diamond trick he needs at this point he would have to put West on lead, and this could prove fatal if it developed that East had the heart length and strength.

Alternatively, South can start by attacking spades immediately—for example, by leading the ace and another spade. However, this method of play is subject to the danger just mentioned—West may take the lead and return a heart.

The proper play, all factors considered, is to lead a low diamond at trick two and finesse the ten. This play guarantees the contract whenever West has the jack and also whenever West has either two, three or four diamonds of any description.

For practical purposes, the first round diamond finesse assures the contract. It loses only when West has a singleton low diamond or East has the singleton jack, and wins in all other cases.

On the actual hand, the diamond finesse results in making ten tricks, while any other method of play would lead to defeat.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Generous planetary influences should make Thursday an unusually happy period—especially in the p.m. Especially favored: Domestic interests and romance, entertainment of any kind, travel and outdoor activities.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, you should find, within the next 12 months, a period in which you will have many opportunities to advance, both in a business way and in your personal concerns. Do try to make the most of good influences which will govern all events during the year ahead. Look for chances to progress, occupationally, in July, late September, in December, January and March. And, if a creative worker, add this June to that list of months in which outstanding achievement—and gratifying recognition—is star promised.

Some minor, but satisfying, "breaks" on the fiscal score, between May 15th and July 15th should give your spirits a lift, but you can look forward to a really excellent period along these lines between September 15th and November 15th; others during early December, next February and March. Do be conservative and stay out of all speculation for the next year, however—but especially during the first two weeks of September and the last two of December.

Stars do not indicate much in the way of travel for balance of 1968, except for short trips, but the first four months of 1969 will be highly auspicious for longer journeys. Your social life will be generously governed during the next 12 months, with notably stimulating periods indicated between June 15 and September 15th and between November 15th and January 1st. New romance, on the glamorous side, is also a happy possibility during those same cycles; also next March and April.

A child born on this day will be endowed with a fine mind and unusual versatility along both business and creative lines, but will have to curb tendencies toward over-aggressiveness.

He's A Fresh Kid, Exclaims Judge

BOSTON (AP) — Arthur Frederico, 17, of Boston, was fined $100 in court Monday for choking and then throwing his 14-year-old date into Boston Harbor after becoming angry with her. "These boys today are just too damn fresh," said Judge Elijah Adlow.

POLICE COPT IT HEREFORD, England (CP) — A police soccer team is considering quitting a county amateur football league. Players complain rival teams use the game as an excuse to work off resentment of the police. "As soon as we take our uniforms off, it seems to be a cue for some teams to try to start a fight," said one bobbie.

LEGAL LOCKOUT CROYDON, England (CP) — The first hearing at a new Surrey court house was delayed 20 minutes because the wicket leading to the dock was locked and the defendant couldn't get into it until someone found the key.
